Previewing Your Course as a Student

When developing a course, it is a good idea to view the course as a student would see it. In the upper-right corner of each screen is a label with the name of the user displayed as well as an icon resembling a pair of eyeglasses.

1. Click the label in the upper right corner of the screen with the username and a graphic icon of a pair of eyeglasses on it.

2. On the following screen, select the user level for the preview. The default is Student. Click the Begin Preview button.

3. The label will change to indicate the Student view and the "eyeglasses" are now colored. The tabs across the top no longer display the Automate or Manage pages.

4. To return to Course Editor view, click the eyeglasses again and then click the Cancel Preview button on the following screen.
