The release of the Summer/Fall 2022 class schedule of the West Valley-Mission Community College District comes with a dynamic new online class search tool. With this new class search tool, users will be able to filter more precisely to find classes which meet their needs. Details about classes will also be more clearly visible and easier to understand.

Beginning a Search

When arriving at the online search users will begin with this screen. The top “Search” bar is essentially a “keyword” search. Start typing in a subject, a course number, even the 5-digit CRN you are looking for and results will begin to appear.

Users may instead use the first set of filters to search for basic characteristics of a course. One especially important filter is Instructional Mode. At the end of this document, there is an explanation of the different Instructional Modes for those who are unfamiliar with them.

Users may click on “More Options” to open more filters which can fine tune the search.

- To look for classes that begin after the first week of the semester, set the “class length” filter for “short term” and double check the start date of the course to ensure it is still in the future.
- To look for a particular instructor, begin typing their name into the box, until the correct instructor is displayed for selection.

Interpreting Search Results

After all desired filtering has been set, it is time to view the results. Initial results display the course number, course name, catalog description, and prerequisites/corequisites/advisories which are indicated for the course. A separate document is available on the class schedule webpage which explains prerequisites, corequisites and advisories. To see the individual sections of the course offered, click on the blue “Show Sections” button.

Be sure to check for additional pages of results
When displaying sections, users will see the details below.

- Each section has a unique 5-digit CRN.
- Confirm a desired instructional mode.
- Blue shows the days the class meets in-person or synchronously online.
- Check availability of seats.
- Check meeting locations. Hover for the complete building name.
- If the location says online, a portion or all of the course occurs synchronously or asynchronously online.
- If no days and times are shown, this means instruction is asynchronous or via arranged hours.
- Some sections are restricted for enrollment to certain groups of students. If this is shown, click on “Section Details” to see who can enroll, along with other section details.
- This symbol means a section is “ZTC” has no textbook costs for students.
“Section Details” displays more information about the class section, including key attributes, the instructor’s email, and the cohort information, if any. At the bottom of the “Section Details” a link will take you directly to textbook information for the section on the college bookstore website.

Instructional Modes Explained

In-Person: All instruction occurs in-person at an assigned location.

Hybrid: Some instruction occurs in-person at an assigned location, and some instruction occurs online either asynchronously or synchronously.

Hyflex: Instruction occurs in-person, but students also have the option to attend via online synchronous videoconference.

Online Asynchronous: All instruction occurs online, with no requirements for online synchronous videoconferences.

Online Synchronous: All instruction occurs online, and some or all instruction occurs in required videoconferences at designated days and times.

Work Experience/Internships: Courses in which students earn credit for work experience or internship.

Tutoring: Courses which students enroll in to access tutoring services. However, currently all Mission College students can access tutoring with no course enrollment needed.
